

TOUR #2924 - Early Morning Crane Photography - November 3, 2024

TOUR DATE: SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 2024

TIME: 6:00 - 8:00 a.m.

DESCRIPTION: Join this tour for an opportunity to photograph Sandhill Cranes and other birds in the early dawn. The tour is designed for experienced photographers with a basic knowledge of their camera (aperture, shutter speed and ISO). If you are interested in learning more about how to capture high quality images in low light and fog, with the challenges of early morning set ups, this is the tour for you. Your guide will cover topics such as composition and framing, the effects of lighting, birds and their early morning behaviors, and exposure selections.

DIRECTIONS TO THE TOUR: This tour takes place at Staten Island. Travel West from Interstate 5 on Walnut Grove Road about 4 miles and turn left on Staten Island Road. (When you cross the Mokelumne River you are only a few hundred yards from Staten Island Road.) If you cross the Mokelumne River a second time, you went too far.

Driving north on Interstate 5.

1. Drive north 9 miles past the Highway 12/Lodi exit to the Thornton/Walnut Grove exit.
2. Exit and turn left under the freeway.
3. Drive west 3.5 miles to Staten Island Road and turn left. (You will know you are almost to Staten Island Road when you cross the Mokelumne River. If you cross the river for a second time, you went too far.)
4. Drive south on Staten Island Road a short distance
5. Check in with your guide at the Kiosk/information board across the street from the large grain silos 5:50 a.m.

Driving south on Interstate 5.

1. Drive south 4 miles past the Twin Cities Road exit to the Thornton/Walnut Grove exit.
2. Exit and turn right.
3. Drive west 3.5 miles to Staten Island Road and turn left. (You will know you are almost to Staten Island Road when you cross the Mokelumne River. If you cross the river for a second time, you went too far.)
